GOPAC is a worldwide alliance of parliamentarians working together to combat corruption, strengthen good government, and uphold the rule of law.

Corruption is a global issue that hinders economic prosperity and the health and well-being of citizens the world over. Key to fighting corruption, and in particular grand corruption, are our leaders, the legislators that have the power and ability to work to bring perpetrators of corruption to justice for a sustainable world where all citizens can live in prosperity and equity.

To strengthen the fight against corruption and bring together the leaders who are fighting corruption across the globe, the Global Organization of Parliamentarians Against Corruption (GOPAC), in collaboration with the House of Representatives of the Republic of Indonesia, the South East Asian Parliamentarians Against Corruption (SEAPAC) and GOPAC Indonesia, are hosting the sixth Global Conference of Parliamentarians Against Corruption, in Yogyakarta, Indonesia, 6-8 October 2015. Delegates will gather for thoughtful discussions and workshops to ensure legislators have the skills to combat corruption.

The event hosts will be holding a news conference at the close of the conference to present the Conference Declaration and share conference outcomes including our members' commitments to fighting corruption over the next two years.
